This is how a standard trading platform looks (there are minor differences in the panels of the different brokers). Every signal you wish to copy will be copied to here.

It is almost time to trade, but first, fund your account. Click the 'Deposit' button (other common buttons are 'Fund', 'Switch to Real' or 'Real Money'). Of course you can choose to practice first if you wish.

You are set to go. Both our signals page and your trading platform are open in different tabs or windows. Now let's copy this profit opportunity - a 'buy euro/dollar' signal.

Our example is shown on eToro's WebTrader platform, but copying our signals is pretty similar in all trading platforms, with very minor differences.

Buy 10,000 units of EUR/USD @ 1.3368

Spread: $3
Per pip: $1

It's really easy to copy the data from the live signal. Click BUY EUR/USD order, leave the current rate, choose your desired leverage (also called 'risk level') and the amount of money you want to trade this position with.

Copy the 'Stop Loss' and 'Take Profit' rates, and click the order button to open your trade.

The screenshot displays the MetaTrader 4 trading platform interface. At the top, there are buttons for 'SELL', 'BUY', and a '1D' timeframe selector. Below these are tabs for 'CHANGE' and 'SENTIMENT'. A 'CURRENCIES' section lists four currency pairs: EUR/USD, GBP/USD, NZD/USD, and USD/CAD, each with its current bid and ask prices and a percentage change. Below the currencies is a 'ONE CLICK TRADING' checkbox and a 'Switch to Real Trading' button.

The 'Open Trades (1)' tab is active, showing a single trade for 'BUY EUR/USD'. The trade details include: Action (BUY EUR/USD), Amount ($100), Units (10,000), Open (1.3386), Current (1.3388), Stop loss (1.3287), Take profit (1.3487), Net profit (2.00), and Gain (%) (2.00%). A 'CLOSE' button is visible next to the trade details.

A dialog box titled 'Set a Take Profit limit.' is open, prompting the user to set a take profit limit. It includes a green upward arrow icon and text stating: 'You can enter values in rate or money values. Money value is calculated from the open rate.' The dialog has two input fields: 'Amount' (set to $101) and 'Rate' (set to 1.3378). A 'min rate: 1.3397' is also displayed.

At the bottom of the interface, the 'Account balance' is shown as $9,858.60, and the 'Equity' is $9,960.60. The 'Server date' is 11/02 13:48, and the status is 'Connected'.

You can reset your Stop Loss and Take Profit orders at any time, even after you open the trade. You can also manually exit your trade if you want to cash in your profits before it reaches the 'Take Profit' target, by clicking 'Close'

FXMarketLeaders

By the way, if you closed your trading platform window for any reason, you can go back to your platform at any time to open it. You simply need to connect to your broker's website and log in (if you have a 'web' platform), or to open it from your desktop (if you have a downloadable platform).
